Greetings, Donn and Snehal:

Confirming preparation for next week's meeting, I wanted you to know that I am in the latter stages of developing an update presentation on the status and progress toward completion of the River research (intercept) project and Community Involvement Plan draft development status in general. Given the improved weather of late, there has been significant activity in this regard recently and continuing this weekend. I'll send a draft presentation for review to Donn early next week with the intention of making the presentation deck available for circulation via email prior to the meeting Wednesday. (At this point, I do not anticipate being able to attend in person, however.)

As always, please write or call me with any additional needs or to discuss further.

Best regards,

K.
